DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The amendment filed 11/2/06 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: the mention of the temperature controller.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying Claims 105-119 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification, as originally filed, does not provide support for the limitation of "...a temperature control means for controls a temperature of the sidewall member to be lower than a temperature of the sample and controls a temperature of the upper member to be higher than the temperature of the sample...", as required by claim independent claims 105 (lines 14-16) and 113 (lines 13-16).

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 105-119 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 105, lines 14-16 and claim 113, lines 13-16, it is unclear what is the temperature control means since it appears that no such means are disclosed in the specification. Clarification is required.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/2/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that there is inherent support for a temperature controller since the specification clearly states that the temperature of the sidewall and the upper member are kept within a specific temperature range. However, the examiner does not agree because simply because the sidewall or upper member is kept within a given temperature range does not necessarily mean that a controller is used to maintain the range. For instance, such a range could be maintained by an operator rather than an integral part of the apparatus. Moreover, even if this were not the case, it is not at all clear that the temperature of the sidewall and the upper member are both controlled using the same temperature controller (in other words, that the temperature control means are the same). For these reasons, the rejections under 35 USC 112 first and second paragraphs are maintained, and an objection to the specification under 35 USC 132 is also included due to the attempt by applicant to add the temperature controller to the specification.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
